-About ten o'clock last night, Bob Adams, a "pinhooker," who is well known among our tobacco men as a fine judge of the weed, was found dead in the bar-room of Hartmon Bros. During the evening, we are told, he indulged pretty freely in ardent spirits and went in the back room and lay down on a sofa, where he was found dead by Mr. Hartman at the hour mentioned. Such a death is to be deplored and should serve as a warning to those who are in the habit of indulging in strong drink.

-A Grand Combination Concert will be given at Brown's Opera House to-night by the Salem Orchestra, assisted by Prof. Gus Rich, the Wizard of the Blue Ridge and the Comedy Conjurer of the Twin-City. The entertainment promises to be the most interesting one ever given by the Orchestra and a "rip-roaring" good time is in store for all who attend. New selections, new music, new tricks, and an enjoyable time for every body. It is home talent and THE SENTINEL bespeaks for them a rousing big house. Tickets now on sale at Brown's drug store tory. Mr. Pegram dropped into our office vesterday morning and informed us that the Conference was the most interestng and business-like of any session held by that body before. Rev. T. J. Ogburn was re-elected President. The Conference apointed Rev. E. Swain to the pastorate of the Winston cnurch, while Rev. W. F. Kennett was appointed to the Flat Rock Circuit, and will make his home at Kernersville. Rev. Mr. Swain will occupy the pulpit of his church here next Sunday morning and right. He will then be absent two Sabbaths arranging his business affairs at his recent tield of labor. The next session of Conference will be held at Henderson.

Dwelling Burned

About two o'clock Monday morning, the fire bell pealed forth and soon our peotoward the Graded School, near which It was far advanced when discovered, and when reached by the fire company, their nose was found to be insufficient in length to reach the nearest hydrant. An extra ose was gotten from the Salem Company, at by this time the flames had gotten beyoud their control and the building was burned to the groun i. It was occupied by Mr. John Hicks and his son-in-luw, Mr. R. Weekly, spent Thanksgiving Day in the H Hopkins. The household property was covered by insurance, we learn, while Mr. Tise's loss, with no insurance, is estimated at between five and six hundred dollars.

Thanksgiving Services. Our good friends of Salem celebrated Thanksgiving by a "Harvest Home" servce. In front of the pulpit were two pyraats, turnips, radishes, corn, pumpkins, sets, onions, apples, tomatoes, squashes, grapes, bananas, oranges, pepper, flowers, to look upon that our bountiful soil brings forth. To the rear of the pulpit was a large festoon, composed of fruits and edibles and Dr. Rondthaler preached the sermon. Servpreached and the attendance was very fair. The church was not decorated, but the people showed their appreciation in another way-they took up a collection and sent it to the orphans. The amount realized was between $30 and $35.

At the Episcopal Church there was service onducted by Rev. H. O. Lacey. Fruits and flowers ornamented the pulpit and the service was interesting.

WHAT "THE STATE OF WILKES" IS.

Wilkesboro, Nov. 28th, 1887.

The Mt. Airy News of last week gives an interesting as well as a horrible account of Rev. E. W. Smith, pastor of Wesminister of that place, and a half mile beyond the Presbyterian Church, has had a call from a North Carolina and Virginia line, in Car-Baltimere congregation with a salary of roll county, Va., the deed of which was per- a splendid medicine. I regard it as a splendid petrated on the evening of November 17th. The victim was a young lady by the name is the accused murderer. Brother Lowery visited the scene of the marder while the Coroner of Carroll county was holding an inquest and learned the particulars.

It seems that on the evening of the murder, the young lady and Tilley, in company with several other young people, were on the road in the vicinity of the spot where the body was found, and that Tilley took away from the girl about $25, which she was coaxing him to return to her. Tilley was said to be intoxicated and begged Louto go with him to a neighboring house, threatening to throw, rocks at the house if she did not accompany him. For some time she objected but at last consented to go with him (with a view it seems of getting her money.) The other party passed on and this was the last ever seen of Lou Haynes alive by any one save the wretch who destroyed her young life. It seems that Tilley shot the girl dead and then dumped the body among the branches of a fallen tree and set fire to it, with the hope that it would be entirely consumed, and thus conceal the crime. The fire rapidly spread among the dry leaves, and was discovered by several who rushed to the scene to extinguish the fire, supposing that it had accidentally gotten out. While endeavoring to put out the flames, they found the halfconsumed body of the murdered girl. The ple were running from every direction body was so badly burned that those who found it could not identify it. The news place a small cottage house, the property of was soon spread and a description of the Mr. Cicero Tise, was discovered to be on fire. suspected murderer was sent throughout

Upon close examina ion by the Coroner's Jury, it was found that the girl had been shot in the top of the head, the ball passing through the brain, tearing its way through the head, breaking one jaw, and coming out under the chin. Several of her limbs were burned off. The body was readily identias that of Lou Haynes by her breast-pin, dress-buttons, etc.

Tilley, so far as we can learn, has sac ceeded in evading all efforts to capture him, but it is reported that Gov. Lee has offered a reward of $1,000 for his apprehension.

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Billious man is seldom a breakfast eater.
